

TESTIMONIALS

"Thanks for your book. Fortunately a friend suggested I start a journal for my child when I first got pregnant. Hopefully other women will realize what a great gift putting down their thoughts and feelings to their child is. You've made it less intimidating! Well done!"

"I want to tell the whole world about this book. Every mother should have Love, Mommy on her bedside table, because every mother will be deeply moved by Sibling-Librach's intimate stories of her own children's lives. This is one of the most honest books I have ever read and as a mother I can completely relate. The best part of Love, Mommy is that not only will it teach you how to write about your kids, it will inspire every mother to take a few minutes from her busy life and record those most precious moments of her children that she will never want to forget...a true treasure and a remarkable gift."

"Love, Mommy is a book that I highly recommend should be at every baby shower. If you get a chance to read it before you have a child, you can make some quick notes about those early days. The day before I went into the hospital to give birth, I took a moment to write a letter to my son-to-be. Love, Mommy is beautifully written and helps give you direction. If you take the time to read it and then pick up a pen and paper or tap away on your computer, in the long run you'll be really glad you did!"

"Love, Mommy is a lovely book, and an inspiration to every mother to take a few minutes to capture her feelings and memories and to document her children's childhoods in her own words. I have been writing letters to my children on a lesser scale since they were six months old - usually on their birthday and trying to capture what they have learned in the last year, what's interesting to them, how they are relating to their siblings, etc. - but your wonderful book has given me some great ideas to make these letters to my children even more special."

"Your book is completely heartwarming and hits home in just so many places. It grabbed me and reeled me in. Thank you for writing such a thoughtful and optimistic story filled with wonderful insights, great advice and unconditional love toward your very lucky children. I love your spirit and wonderful attitude. You write like an artist, carefully drawing the outline and then filling the picture with colour, warmth and experience—yet leaving just the right amount out for the reader's imagination. Please continue to do all that you do."

Ellen Schwartz, Author of Lessons from Jacob

"If only I had read Love, Mommy when my kids were born. The idea of consciously writing our children letters documenting their childhood is the greatest gift for any family. Read it with a glass of wine and then start writing."

Erica Ehm, Founder and Creator of Yummy Mummy

"Judy Sibling-Librach, with her book Love, Mommy, helps you create a family treasure—a written journal unique only to you and your child. Motherhood in itself qualifies you to be the writer. Just pick up a pen and Sibling-Librach will guide you as you open your heart to the written page. She makes writing love letters to your baby so easy."
